

TRAPPED IN YOUR HOUSE

DUE TO HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN

A one page RPG by Oliver Darkshire

Hans Christian Andersen is on your lawn he won't leave, and you refuse to let him in surely he has to go home eventually? surely? why does he have camping supplies with him

RULES

You have three scores:

Scandal (which starts at 0)

Obsession (which starts at 10)

& Food Stores (which starts at 10)

SCANDAL 10

OBSSESSION 10

FOOD STORES 10

LIKE A FAIRY TALE...

To start the game, you generate a new Event by rolling a six-sided die (d6). Adjust your scores as directed by the table (or subtable), then roll a new event. Keep rolling new events until one of the following occurs:

- If your Scandal score reaches 10, then the pressure and mockery from society reaches such heights that you decide to sell the house. Hans moves in after you leave and squats there.
- If your Obsession score reaches 0, then Hans finally loses interest in you and finds another unattainable person to chase. Victory. He does, however, write a thinly veiled short story about you. It's not flattering.
- If your Food Stores score reaches 0, then you run out of food and starve before Hans relents. The funeral is tasteful. He does not attend.

SPECIAL RULE: THE FIVE WEEK RULE

If you roll three consecutive 5s in a row for any reason, then Hans is dragged away kicking and screaming by an apologetic relative, nurse or member of the constabulary.
